

Scheisse

"Goodbye light bulb"
Hans Bleken Rud (Designer)

PH. DAMIAN HENISCH

PH. SIMEN SKYER

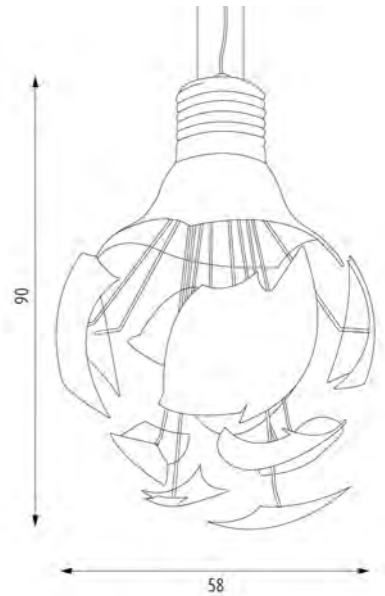

Scheisse (Design 2008)
 Scheisse is a large pendant lamp. The lamp pays its respect to the traditional incandescent light bulb, which, with its warm light and good colour reflection, has given light to our households for so many years. The classic light bulb is one of Man's most important inventions. Unfortunately this bulb is inefficient, which creates challenges in our threatened environment. Scheisse is a blend of art and industrial design, an experiment with light and shadow as well as positive and negative shapes. Scheisse creates a distinct shadow and sculpture in its environment.

Wherever placed, Scheisse will hopefully stand out as a true icon for all light lovers.

PH. SIMEN SKYER

Specifications
 Pendant lamp
 Shade colour: Matt off-white
 Body material: Aluminium shade elements and steel base
 Wire: Transparent 250 cm
 Bulb: E27. Max. 200 W
 220V-240V - 50HZ
 Net weight: 3.3 kg
 CE

Designer: Hans Bleken Rud

Hans Bleken Rud (born 1980) is a young Norwegian Industrial Designer. He began his studies at the Art and Design College in Asker, Norway, and later graduated with a Masters in Industrial Design from the Oslo School of Architecture and Design. During the last six years his professional career has been focused towards various projects related to lighting and lighting design. He now works as a professional lighting designer for Glamox AS.

